

CPD Questionnaire Ventilation

Question		Answer
1	Controlled studies showed that as ventilation rates increased... A) Adult work performance improved but children performed school work at a slower pace B) Adult work performance was unaffected but children performed school work with greater speed C) Children performed school work with greater speed and adult work performance improved
2	Australian Standard AS7593 defines the methodology for calculating the ventilation opening of an operable window. True or false?
3	At the window sizes used to calculate WERS ratings of window systems, which two window types offer the highest ventilation opening as a percentage of the overall window size?
4	Double glazed windows always have better U-values than single glazed windows. True or false?
5	WERS ratings are available for window systems with fibreglass flyscreens. True or false?	